MERCURY-WILL  REDFIELD TO PROBE TAKE FAREWELL

Rise in Temperature Due To- Congressman Named to Inmorrow, Barring "Flareback."

(Continued from First Page.) until a thaw makes it possible to clear off the streets more easily. Crossings have now been made in the outlying and suburban sections as well as on all streets in the residential and business sections. There the work stops until the sunshine comes as an aid. Lessened delays also were reported from the trains at Union Station this morning. In some cases extreme cold caused trouble to certain trains, notably those coming in from the West, but, as a rule, trains came in within an hour of their scheduled time.

Cut Off Water Supply to Prevent Disaster, Says Garland

"To avoid trouble in freezing weather, every member of the household should that in the event of water pipes burstwithout delay. The place where the water can be turned off is usually the sink in the kitchen and sometimes where the pipes enter the sometimes where the pipes enter the house."

This was the advice offered today by J. S. Garland, assistant engineer of the Water Department. Since the beginning of the cold wave employes of the department have been working overtime answering calls of distress. Between January 4 and 16, 556 appeals to turn off the water were made by householders whose pipes had burst. One day 170 requests were made, which, according to Mr. Garland, is the record for the department.

One of the suggestions offered to

One of the suggestions offered to householders by officials of the Water Department to prevent freezing of fix-tures, is to keep a constant fire going day and night. Banking the fire at night will be sufficient. In bath rooms having modern plumbing a burning gas jet will prevent pipes from freezing. Referring to the installation of meters as a means of preventing waste, Mr. Garland said that while there has been no appreciable increase in the use of water in the metered districts, the water in the metered districts, the total daily consumption in the city has increased from 60,000,000 to 75,000,000 gallons a day, due to waste in the unmetered districts. In order to prevent pipes from freezing, householders whose supply of water is unmetered, he said, are allowing the water to run all night. There is no danger at present, according to Mr. Garland, of a shortage in the water supply as the daily capacity of the conduit is 90,000,000 gallons, in addition to which there is a large reserve supply in the reservoirs.

Robey Recovering From His Injuries Received in Fall

Capt. Lucien E. Robey, who received arm by a fall on the ice last Friday. is rapidly recovering from the effects of the injury, and expects that within a few days he will be able to resume his duties as assistant stationmaster of Union Station at Union Station.

Captain Robey is one of the veteran employes of the Pennsylvania railroad, and has held his position of assistant stationmaster since 1907. He is well known among railroad men from one end of the country to the other.

Dennis Lyles, colored, sixty-seven years old, of Alabama avenue, Garfield, D. C., accomplished the rather remarkable feat yesterday of selecting the only spot around this part of the country where the ice is not thick enough to support a horse. Lyles found the one weak spot in the Eastern branch near the Anacostia bridge.

Friends grabbed him as he was sinking beneath the surface, and a few minutes after he was pulled out his clothing was frozen. He was taken in an ambulance to the Casualty Hospital, where it was said this morning his condition was serious as the result of the cold and exposure.

The automobile belonging to Major cold and exposure. The automobile belonging to Major W. V. Judson, Engineer Commissioner, skidded on the slippery pavement in front of the Municipal building yesterday, and was rammed by a Capital Traction car. The Commissioner was not in the car.

Zero Weather in New York Leads to

NEW YORK, Jan. 16,-With the mercury hugging close to the zero mark, biting wind swept across New York today, adding great suffering to the thousands of homeless. Colder weather, accompanied by higher winds, was forecast.

The streets of New York today were in the most dangerous condition in years. A heavy snowfall, packed hard. has frozen into a sheet of ice, which renders horse and foot traffic perilous So bitter is the cold that the Hudson river is frozen over to Yonkers.

Another Hook Protest Reaches President

Another protest against the nomination of Judge Hook, of Kansas, for the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench caused by the death of Justice Harlan has gone to the President. This one is from John M. Eshleman, chairman of the State railway com-mission of California. He makes a strong protest against selecting Judge Hook for the Supreme Court, and objects to the Sanborn decision as to intrastate rates, in which Judge Hook participated.

Judicial Reception List Has Been Closed

So great has been the demand for cards to the judicial reception to be held at the White House on Tuesday evening. January 23. Secretary Hilles has been compelled to close the lists. No more invitations will be issued. The reception rooms of the Executive Mansion will not hold more persons than have already been invited.

DISTRICT SUPPLIES

vestigate, With View to Improving Methods.

Careful investigation of the District's ethod of purchasing supplies is being made by Congressman William C. Redfield of New York, a member of the House Committee on the District of Columbia. Mr. Redfield was selected for the inquiry by Chairman Ben Johnson. The investigation is a part of the plan of the House District Committee to inquire into the District's conduct of its business, with a piew of offering suggestions for improvements, and is in no way a reflection on the heads of the

The offices of the Collector of Taxes. Assessor, and Inspector, it is understood, are also slated for investigation by various members of the committee. Henry George, jr., already has collected considerable data from the office of the Assessor.

Has Had Experience.

Mr. Redfield was selected to inquire into the purchasing office because of learn where the 'cut-off' is located so his experience as a business man of Detroit, Mich., and Troy, N. Y. He is ing, the supply can be discontinued the vice president of the American Blower Company, and since 1883 has been engaged in the manufacture of iron and steel forgings, and since 1907 in the manufacture of heating, ventilating, and drying apparatus, engines, etc.

Through M. C. Hargrove, Purchasing Officer, Mr. Redfield has been furnished copies of the contracts under which goods are purchased and explanation given him of the methods of purchase in the open market. Accompanied by goods are purchased and explanation given him of the methods of purchase in the open market. Accompanied by Mr. Hargrove, he has made a round of the storage houses, blacksmith shops, and coal yards, under the supervision of the Purchasing Officer and inquired carefully into every described of administration. and inquired carefully into every de-tail of administration.

As yet, according to District officials, he has had no criticism to offer, but it is probable that he will make a num-ber of suggestions looking toward im-proved methods. His report, it is un-derstood, will not be submitted for sev-aral months.

eral months. Will Urge Legislation.

In connection with the investigation, the Commissioners will bring to Mr. Redfield's attention the need of legislation which will give them discretionary powers in the matter of entering into formal bonded contracts, which was recommended by Mr. Hargove in his last annual report. Under the present law the Commissioners are required to enter into bonded contracts for the delivery of all supplies which cost $500 or more. The delay caused by this procedure often results in the supplies being delivered before the contract is ready to be executed, and mer-chants and business men are embar-rassed by having to wait for their

In cases where supplies arre no payments are made until the supplies are delivered, the Commissioners, it is argued, should not be made to enter a compound fracture of the left fore-arm by a fall on the ice last Widey

District Committee to Hear Realty Brokers

Real estate brokers opposed to the ionnson bill proposing to make it bolt necessary publicly to record the exact consideration in every transfer of real estate in the District will appear before the House District Committee on Friday morning at 10 o'clock ready to discuss the measure from every stand-

A meeting attended by George Y. Worthington, J. D. Sullivan, G. W. F. Swartzell, James L. Parsons, William H. Saunders, Edgar Kennedy, and Ful-ton R. Gordon was held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon at which the program for the hearing was outlined.

Thawing of Pipes Causes Two Fires

Two fires, caused by persons thawing pipes, occurred shortly before noon today. A fire which had been built around a frozen water pipe in the cellar of the home of Thornton Kendrick, 1139 Twenty-fourth street northwest, ignit-Suffering; River Frozen ed the floor above, and caused a blaze which caused $100 damage.

An attempt to thaw a frozen gas meter in the grocery store of John R. Stone, 2242 Eighteenth street northwest, resulted in an explosion of gas which wrecked the meter and did $5 damage to the building. No one was hurt,

So Tired of Tired

Gets the "Tired" Out in a Few Minutes. Makes Your Feet Sore-Proof.

"O fudge! It's awful how tired feet make you feel tired all over—so dead tired. Then, when you've got a corn besides, and a bunion, and a few blis-ters, and your feet are terribly swollen, you don't care if you've got a million dollars—you're tired, that's all. A mil-lion dollars can't help you any more than 25 cents will."

Mansion will not hold more persons than have already been invited.

C. B. Jewell Buried

At Oak Hill Today

Funeral services for Claudius B. Jewell, eighty-seven years old, were held in the Church of the Covenant this morning at II o'clock. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery. Mr. Jewell was a retired business man, and had been an eider and trustee in the Church of the Covenant since its scart.

than 25 cents will."

A quarter buys a box of TI—a wonder for tired, sore, tender, chafed, blistered, swollen, sweaty, smelly feet, corns, callouses and bunions, chilbiains, and trost-bite. The moment you use it, you give a sigh of relief, and then you smile. There's nothing as good as TIZ, 50 don't accept any attempted imitation. TIZ draws out all the poisonous exudations that make foot troubles.

TIZ, 25 cents will."

A quarter buys a box of TI—a wonder for tired, sore, tender, chafed, blistered, swollen, sweaty, smelly feet, corns, callouses and bunions, chilbiains, and then you give a sigh of relief, and then you smile. There's nothing as good as TIZ, 50 don't accept any attempted imitation. TIZ draws out all the poisonous exudations that make foot troubles.

TIZ, 25 cents will."

A quarter buys a box of TI—a wonder for tired, sore, tender, chafed, blistered, swollen, sweaty, smelly feet, corns, callouses and bunions, chilbiains, and then you give a sigh of relief, and then you give a

SYSTEM OF BUYING 1. Dufreny's Quest Chief of the French Secret Copyright, 1911, Frank A. Municey Translated By Florence Crew

Synopsis of Chapters Already Published

The story opens at the pretty home of a M. Roger Deverly, called the Villa des Roses. M. Roger Deverly is stabled to death, and his wife, Adrienne, who has spent the evening away from her house, and refuses to tell where she was when her husband was killed, is suspected of the crime. Her servant, Josephine, whose sweetheart is "Bribri the Serpent," one of the most notorious Apaches in Paris, gives the information that Mine. Deveriy was away from home. While the detective, Pousse-Pousse, is seeking to unravel the crime, one Chauffard, a well-known usurer who lives near Neuilly, suddenly disappears from his home one evening, together with his niece, Georgette. A ghastiy hand, which is identitied as being Chauffard's, is found in the garden. With the second murder, a young detective enters the field disguised as Narcisse, a music hall performer. Narcisse and Pousse-Pousse join hands, and it is announced that the murderers of M. Roger Deverly are about to be arrested. Later the body of Chauffard is discovered.

Mme. Deveriy is visited in her apartments by a mysterious young man, whom she embraces and addresses as Leon. The conclerge interrupts their talk and Leon disappears.

Narcisse sings at a music hall and is invited to a robbers' conference in which Bribri and Fil-a-Beurre, another thief, are to participate.

CHAPTER XIV Synopsis of Chapters Already Published,

CHAPTER XIV. At Father Larifla's.

N a two-story house in the middle of some lots, a retired undertaker had opened a little wineshop. His customers were mostly the grave-diggets from the cemetery and the attendants at the hospital near by Father Larifa. was a lovial, gay, old fellow, his customers had nicknamed him "Larian" hecause he was always singing. An artist had painted a sign which hung over the door, representing an undertaker at a funeral dressed in his somber clothes and dancing a jig, in one hand he had a glass, in the other a bottle. A wit had written beneath the picture:

"One is better here than opposite," alluding to the cemetery on the other side of the road; and another had added in small writing beneath a finger pointing to the hospital:

"And also than at the place on the left."

There were very few customers at the

There were very few customers at the abarct of an evening. Fila-Beurre, followed by the Serpent and Josephine, walked into the wineshop as one who knows the house well. At this hour the place was empty. Father Larifia was dozing in his chair.

"Allons! Hoop-la manne zingue of my heart!" cried Wil-a-Beurre, knocking on the zinc. "Here are customers, and first class ones, Volla! volla! my princess. What can I serve you—cognac? "First of all, a place where we can talk. We've got some important business to settle."

"Very good," said Father Larifia, "I will give you a cabinet where you can will give you a cabinet where you can sing all night, and no one will hear you, Tra, la, la; tra, la, ia."

"Here, stop that; we've had all the singing we want tonight, haven't we?" "For sure."
"And listen." continued Fil-a-Beurre, "a geentleman is coming here soon—a swell. He's a Jisquised prince from Tonkin. He's a friend o' mine. You Tonkin. He's a friend o' mine. You bring him to us when he comes."

"Understand, monsleur."
"Now, if any other zigs want to see me, I'm engaged," said Fil-a-Beurre with the air of a grand seigneur giving orders to his valet.
Father Larifia showed his customers into a little room without a window, furnished with a table and four chairs. "You'll he like kings here." he said, "a "You'll be like kings here," he said, "a real tomb."
"Here, we don't want that sort of a joke," said Bribri.
"That's only my fun. Everybody laughs here."
"Well, that's enough, we don't

'All right. I'll take my paws off, when I've served you."
"We don't ask you to do that," said Fil-a-Beurre, going to the door and closing it on the loquacious old man.
The latter reopened it immediately.

The latter reopened it immediately.
"Tonnere de Dieu!" shouted Fil-aBeurre. "Keep out!"
"I just wanted to tell you there's a bolt on the inside, so you can lock yourself in."
"Good. Now take yer hook."
"Understand," said Father Lariffa, putting his little finger to his left nostril.
Fil-a-Beurre flicked his eyelashes very slightly. He touched the brass watch chain he wore and rolled it two or three times round his thumb, then, after he had locked the door he came back to his guests.

had locked the door he came back to his guests.

"Now we can talk!"

"Volla! we're going to trust you. We're going to tell you the business, but you may be sure of one thing, if ever you squawk, on the faith of Bribri, yer wony't stay on this earth long."

Fil-a-Beurre put his hand to his heart.

"You distress me, comrade," he said. "Allons!" said Josephine, "if we can't eing honest?"

"For sure, we've got our principles," said Fil-a-Beurre. "Well, that's enough. Now listen."
"That's what I've been wanting to do for an hour."
"Fine, my particular girl here, got mixed up with the police."
Fil-a-Beurre gave him a questioning look.

look.
"You know what I mean. That crime at Courbevole. An architect croaked, you remember?"
"Yes, yes, I remember," said Fil-a-Beurre.
"And this poor Fifine had a deuce of a time getting out of it. They thought she had something to do with it, 'cause she had something to a she knew me."
"Tain't no reason," said Fil-a-"Tain't no reason," said Fila-Beurre.
"For sure it ain't," chimed in Josephine.
"Well, she got out of it and can breathe again now," said the Berpent.
"I believe yer. Yer both look as though yer having a swell time. You two are everywhere. Now tell us the business."

The Serpent passed his tongue over "Well, Fifine's a very orderly girl, and while she was a lady's maid she put aside a few things that was not wanted."
"Ah!"
"And she wants to get rid of 'em now."

which it up the poor room with its dazzling brilliancy.

"Oh!" cried Fil-a-Beurre, holding out his hands to take the jewel.

"Halt, there!" cried the Serpent.

"Well, yer can't sell things if yer don't know what they are. How do I know it's the real thing!"

"On my honor it is," said the Serpent, sublimely unaware of the irony of his words. At this moment there was a knock on the door. Bribri and Josephine looked at each ewel case and slipped it into his pocket
"It's Narcisse."

Josephine

"It's Narcisse."
Josephine actually blushed. Bribri frowned. As he had already said, he did not care to let strangers know his business affairs. But in this matter he had no choice, for he was obliged to let some one sell the jewels for him.
Fil a-Heurre pulled back the bolt and some as he had appeared on the stage. rust one another, what's the good of He had discarded the blond wig, and his own dark hair was plastered down an looked very gressy, his nails were neglected. The well-cut evening suit that he had worn at the Golden was replaced by an old colored shirt without a collar, and a coat of brown cheviot. His very voice seemed different Josephine made a grimace. It was difficult to believe that this ordiof a gentleman," said Fil-a-Beurre admiringly.

Father Larifia, contrary to his usual custom, placed the bottle on the table without a word and disappeared.
Narcisse had taken a seat between Fil-a-Beurre and Josephine.
"My pal says that you want me to do something for you. We'll talk of that later. First of all we'll makes acquaintance. Here's to you.
He filled the glasses to the brim, then turned to Josephine and said:
"Here's good luck, fascinatingFifine."

fine."
"You know my name, then," said

a price?"
"I've got all that's needed, an' I ain't going to be stung."
"Well, let's see them."
The Serpent drew out the case again, opened it, and laid it on the table.
"The guy who tried to nab 'em won't have a have a chance to go to paradise—I warn yer!"

"I've got the same thing in my pocket as you've got in yours. I never go about unaccompanied.
Narcisse took two small American revolvers out of his pocket.
"Allons!" said Fil-a-Beurre. "What's the good of sparring. Why can't yer be friends?" Continuation of This Story Will was difficult to believe that this ordinary looking man was the handsome actor who had made such an impression upon her, but the moment his bright, magnetic eyes met hers she recognized the look, although it seemed somewhat harder and more determined. "Father Larifia," said the singer, "before you go, bring us a half bottle of mark." 'Ah! that's what I call the manners of a gentleman," said Fil-a-Beurre admiringly.

"An!"

"And she wants to get rid of 'em now."

"You said something 'bout that the other day. I tell yer there's only Narcisse who can do the business without danger. He knows lots of actresses and women who'll buy without asking questions. That's why I told him to come here."

Josephine had drawn near. The name of Narcisse had suddenly aroused her.

"Then it is true that he's coming. I'll ask him to sing some songs."

"Business first, pleasure after," said the Serpent sententiously.

"Have you got the loot," said Fila-Beurre, leaning over the table.

The Serpent took a long packet out of his pocket. He opened it carefully and disclosed a morocco leather case with gold fittings. He touched the spring. The dim light from the petrol lamp fell on a magnificent ornament which lit up the poor room with its dazzling brilliancy.

"Oh!" cried Fil-a-Beurre, holding out

Be Found In Tomorrow's

CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS, COATED TONGUE, HEADACHE OR BAD STOMACH

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery-indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning-a 10-cent box will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take Under U. S. Government Control.

Knowing Where to Deposit Your Savings to

3% Interest Paid on Accounts,

Compounded Every Six Months OFFICERS:

W. WoodwardV. Pres. Wm. H. Lynn2d V. Pres. W. Reginald LewisAsst. Treas.

DIRECTORS: Joseph E. Ralph, A. E. Randle, F. I., Siddons,

E. Quincy Smith, M. A. Winter, S. W. Woodward.

Henry L. Goodman, Samuel M. Jarvis, Wilton J. Lambert, A. E. L. Leckie, W. H. Lynn, Frank P. Milburn, Best Advantage -is just as important as knowing how to save. If you contemplate opening a bank account, consider carefully the ACTUAL

Will your savings be protected by ample resources and conservative policies?

AD VANTAGES you'll derive there-

Will your deposits earn you a substantial rate of interest? Will the bank you patronize treat you with that courtesy to which you are entitled in return for your patronage?

This stong old savings bank offers the most satisfactory answers to these important questions, as thousands of successful savers will testify. ONE DOLLAR or more will open an account here.

UNION SAVINGS BANK

710 14th STREET N. W.

Regular banking hours, 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.; Saturdays, 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 6 to 8 p. m. for DEPOSITS only.

Open on 1st, 2d, 3d, 16th, and 17th until 5 p. m. for DEPOSITS ONLY.

EXPEND MILLION ILLEGALLY, SAYS

Charges Made Against Officials of Postoffice Department.

(Continued from First Page.) He said he had not resigned from the Cabinet and had made no plans to The Postmaster General w

The Postmaster General was told of reports in circulation both at the White House and the Capitol to the effect that he would probably retire from the Cabinet before the Chicago convention. To inet before the Chicago convention. To this he replied: "I have made no plans such as you have suggested. I have not resigned. I do not intend to at this time." This is all Mr. Hitchcock cared to say

I do not intend to at this time."

This is all Mr. Hitchcock cared to say about the matter.

Lower Quarter of

Osaka, Japan Burned

Osaka, Japan Jan It-Wes of the sattement of just a few of those who have tried-who have been convinced.

Mr. It is feared that many lives were lost, as the devastation was complete over a wide area. The cause of the confiagration is unknown. Before the alarm was given a score of filmsy structures were wrapped in fiames. The blaze spread rapidly, and because of the highly inflammable material of which the houses were constructed the work of the firefighters was most difficult.

A number of factories were destroyed and many persons will be without work. The government is attempting to care for the homeless in the public institutions.

Ohio Court Upholds

Workingmen's Measure COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 16 .- The constitutionality of the Ohio workingmen's compensation act was upheld by the Ohio supreme court in a decision hand-ed down. The case has long been pend-ing before that body, and arguments on both sides were submitted by some of the ablest lawyers of the country.

GENERAL CLEAN-UP SALE

2,500 RAINCOATS, OVERCOATS AND ENGLISH SLIP-ONS

Prices Far Below Actual Cost

Men's and Women's $5.00, $7.50 and $10 Silk Rubberized Coats and English Slip-Ons at $2.85, $3.65 & $4.90 Our Entire Stock of Men's $12, $18 and $25 Cravenettes and Overcoats at $18, $22 and $30 Imported Slip-Ons and Priestley Cravenettes at

Men's and Women's

$7.45 $9.75 & $12.90 Boys' and Girls'

*3, $5 and $7.50 Slip-Ons and Capes. Greatest values ever offered at

$1.25, $1.95 & $2.60

Mail orders promptly attended to when accompanied by check or money order. State bust and length

RUBBER CO.

933 F St. N.W. Between 9th and 10th Streets.

Are just as important as other parts. Do not neglect them. The way we treat corns, bunions, ingrowing nails, and flat foot means immediate comfort.

YOUR

Georges & Son, Inc. 1214 F Street N. V.

English Hair Grower American Rights Secured for New Drug CRYSTOLIS

Grows Hair an Inch Long in 30 Days.

Stops Failing Hair, Dandruff and Itching Scalp—Restores Gray and Faded Hair to Natural Color and Brilliancy.

DENVER EDITOR CUT OFF FREE COUPON AND MAIL TODAY.

> tries to plaster a few scanty locks over "that baid spot."
> Good news for the woman whose hair is falling, whose locks are too scanty to properly pin up her false hair.
> Good news for both men and women who find a handful of hair in their combs every morning. For men and women growing gray before their time.
> Good news for all with itching, burning scalps, with dandruff, with any and all forms of hair and scalp trouble.
> The Cresio Laboratories, 51 A St., Binghamton, N. Y., have secured the exclusive American rights for Crystolis, the famous English hair treatment.
> Crystolis is a household word in Europe, where it is acclaimed "the most marvelous scientific discovery for promoting hair growth." It has won gold medals at Paria and Brussels.
> Better yet, it has won the warmest words of praise from those who have been fortunate enough to test its remarkable qualities.
> Crystolis has been tried out in America for Crystolis has been tried out in America for houses were constructed the work of the firefighters was most difficult.

A number of factories were destroyed and many persons will be without work. The government is attempting to care for the homeless in the public institutions.

Nearly 2,000 temples are located in Osaka, and many of these were in the path of the flames. No estimate of the property loss could be obtained today, but it will be very heavy.

Other County II and the work of the days after beginning the treatment."

Mrs. Jackson, of New York, writes: "My hair stopped falling the first week. No more falling the first week. No more falling scalp, and hair is coming in fast."

Mrs. Arnott, of Cleveland, reports: 'Ttching gene; no more falling hair.''

Mrs. Rose, of Rock Island, writes: "Was almost wild for five years with itching scalp. Two or three applications of Crystout of hair.''

Other County II and the work of the coming in fast."

You may be acquainted with some of them.

you may be acquainted with some of these people or some of your friends may know them. Write us, and we can give you the full address, so that you can prove every But the best way to prove, without the But the best way to prove, without the risk of a penny, just what Crystolis will do in your own individual case, is to cut out the free coupon below and mail it today. This invitation is open to bald-headed people, wis-wearers, to men and women with falling hair, prematurely gray hair, dry hair, brittle hair, stringy hair, greasy hair, matted hair, dandruff, itching scalp or any and all forms of scalp and hair trouble. Don't lay this paper axide until you have mailed the Free Coupon to the Cresio Laboratories, 51 A St., Binghamton, N. Y. Write your name and address plainly.

FREE COUPON.

The Cresio Laboratories, 51 A St.,
Binghamton, N. Y.
I am a reader of Munsey papers. Prove to me without expense that Crystolia stops failing hair, grows new hair, banishes dandruff and itching scalps, and restores gray and faded hair to natural color. Write your name and address plainly and PIN THIS COUPON TO YOUR LETTER.

Babys

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays Mothers nausea, and

ARTISTS and DRAUGHTSMEN

preventscakdrug stores. Write for free book.

breasts. Mother's Friend is sold at RBADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

-can always count on getting the instruments and materials they need at this store. A complete stock of standard supplies at reasonable prices.

Geo. MUTH&CO. Former's 418 7th St.

HELP WANTED "ADS"

In The Washington Times appeal to the alert, intelligent men and women that

EMPLOYES.

make the best